Carver-Price School News

Hello Readers!

The semester exams will begin Wednesday, January 23, 1957.

The Carver-Price High School Panthers played Central of Amherst on Monday and squeezed out a 37-34 victory on the loser's court. The game was the closest the Panthers have been involved in since their 36-34 loss to E. R. Moton, who incidentally is the Panther's foe on Friday. Both the jayvees and the varsity will play.

The Amherst contest was decided in the last three minutes on foul shots, which for the first time this season paid off handsomely. This is only the second time this year that the Panthers have shot 50 per cent from the free throw line.

Alphonso Dillard and James Gafford, who paced the Panthers' fourth period rally were high scorers with 12 and 11 points respectively. We are all hoping to avenge an earlier defeat against Moton on Friday night in Farmville.

The sixth grade, under the supervision of Mrs. Hamlet, observed the inauguration January 21, 1957, in their social studies class. Mrs. Hamlet brought her portable T. V. In their English class they wrote an invitation to the sixth grade class inviting them to attend the inauguration party, with Mrs. Foster, their teacher. After observing the inauguration, each student wrote a report on what they saw. Lolis of the same class has 100% attendance for this semester. There are 34 students enrolled in the sixth grade. An average of 32 students have attended regularly since January 7, 1957.

The "Miss Carver-Price" Contestant is being participated in wholeheartedly by all classes. Competition is keen and we will be anxious to know the winner on February 1.

The Student Participation Association is expecting a large crowd here Friday, January 25, for the District Planning Meeting for the State Meeting of the S. P. A. to be held here at Carver in April. Eddy Betts and Mr. Carrie Thomas are sponsors of the local P. A.

We close with this thought: "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven."

Let's see the decisive factors in the '57 Inner Ford

They show you why the new kind of Ford is worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it!

The secret of Ford's nationwide success is this: it's a new kind of Ford . . . new from the wheels up . . . more than a last year's model with a few "face lift" changes. In a Ford the chassis, engine and body are individually engineered into one spacious, rock-solid unit. That's why, when you examine the new Inner Ford, you find a car that's new . . . clear through!

If you're a careful car-buyer with whom features count, count the new features of the '57 Ford. Then drive it! There's only one conclusion: the loveliest, liveliest car in the low-price field is the completely new Ford. For the decisive facts, see your Ford Dealer.

Poultry House Ventilation

How the poultry house is ventilated has a lot to do with how healthy the birds are and how many eggs they lay.

Check your poultry house for good ventilation, as poultry do best at temperatures from 40 to 70 degreen.

Windows on the east and west sides of the house should be spaced about one to every 10 feet of wall. Guard against having too many windows. The continuous type is not recommended in Virginia. Roof ventilation, roof insulation, and tight walls also are aids to good ventilation.

If there is any wet litter in the poultry house, it's a pretty sure sign of bad ventilation.

Price Support Cut on Tobacco To Be Rigidly Enforced

Flue-cured tobacco growers who grow one of the three varieties on which there will be 50% cuts in price support in 1957 can't count on any laxity in enforcement.

The USDA has announced plans for "rigid enforcement" of the cut in price support of the varieties Coker 139, Coker 140, and Dixie Bright 244.

Those varieties have been favored by some growers in recent years because the plants had resistance to certain diseases, but the tobacco industry has not been buying the leaf because of its lack or aroma and light body. The USDA officials gave fair warning that they plan to (1) prepare a variety identification manual describing the characteristics of the discounted varieties under various soil, moisture and cultural practice conditions; (2) examine, with the aid of the manuel, tobacco in the field; (3) use qualified experts to check any farm where there is any question as to whether one or more of the discounted varieties is being grown; and (4) spot check flue-cured farms throughout the growing season.

Special types of marketing cards providing for "limited support" will be issued unless the farm operator can establish that no tobacco of the discount varieties has been produced on the farm or any other farm he operates. The "limited support" card for any farm may be exchanged for a full support marketing card when the farm operator shows conclusively that there has been no mixing or substitution of the discount variety tobacco with any other tobacco.

Notes From the County Agent's Desk

Several farmers in the county are feeding out steers .. The Virginia State Department of Agriculture is now providing on the farm grading at the present time at no charge. In 1956 cattle owners tested 1522 or 33% of the total animals in the county. 277 calves were vaccinated for Bangs or 22% .... efficient farmers need to consider testing as an annual practice. Another disease is coming into the livestock picture .. already known to be in two dairy herds .. four cows affected in one herd .. ten cows have aborted in another .. top dairymen and beef cattle owners should test for the presence of the disease .. it's found in dogs and rats .. you can get it also .. it's called Leptospirosis. A Texas survey of DHIA records show that a cow producing 550 pounds of butterfat returns $3.93 per hour of labor .. cow producing 150 pounds only 3c per hour of labor .. efficient producers boost farm income .. Some may prefer looking at the "score" another way. 17 cows producing 550 lbs. of butterfat will return only $6,681 for labor and management .. 2,207 cows producing 150 pounds butterfat return only $6,621 for labor and management. Studies show though there is a definite relationship between age of cow and profits .. provided all else is equal .. select cow that will stay in the herd a long time .. breed these cows artificially and save replacements. Experiments show no practical value in feeding Thyroprotein .. for short periods it may increase production as much as 20% .. for short periods .. however total lactation was not affected. Weed control chemicals used on plant beds give excellent results .. why not try some this year .. several good ones are on the market .. Methyl Bromide .. Allyl Alcohol (A. A.) .. Allyl Alcohol and ethylene dibromide (A.A.-E.D. B.) trade name: Beddrench .. Allyl Alcohol and Dichloropropane - Dichloropropene (A.A.-D-D)trade names Bacma Bed Drench and Tobacco Plant Bed Drench .. Sodium Methyl Dithio Carbamate — trade name Vapam .. tobacco beds prepared in narrow beds give top results .. an efficient grower wants quality plants .. narrow beds are the best way to get them.

Winter Landscape Tips

There are several seasonal things home owners can be doing to assure attractive landscaping, for instance:

Check bulbs in storage. Inspect tubers of dahlias to see if the moisture conditions are right. Sprinkle if too dry. Inspect all bulbs and corms. Cut off portions which show decay. Dust stored bulbs with sulphur.

Mulch 'anxious' bulbs. About this time every year after a few successive warm days some of the bulbs get anxious to grow. Two or three inches of mulching material such as sawdust, leaves, or old hay can help retard growth by insulating the soil surface and keeping the temperature more constant.

If you are planning to set out some plants this spring, visit your nurseryman and place your order early. He will be able to give you more attention now than during the spring rush. Your choice of plant material now is better than it will be later in the season.

Check equipment and prepare it for the coming season. Time is valuable once the spring gardening season starts. Send the lawn mower to the shop if it needs sharpening or repairing. Sharpen garden tools and check your pruning equipment. It's a good time too to paint garden furniture and repair window boxes.

Don't let evergreens planted in late fall or early winter get too dry. Shake snow off evergreen branches to avoid bending and breaking. If your arborvitaes are turning brown, don't be alarmed. It is natural during the winter.

Check your landscape design to see where you might add one or two evergreens for winter interest. The absence of evergreens in a landscape planting can be quite conspicuous during the winter.

Many shrubs can be pruned in late winter. Those which bloom on new growth should be pruned in late winter or early spring: for example, abelia, crape myrtle, vitex, butterfly bush and hydrangea.

Evergreens that were not prunded last year and are getting too large also can be prunded in the winter; arborvitae, boxwood, chamaacyparis, hemlock, holly, osmanthus, juniper and phoenix.
